Nineteenth Annual PRICE LIST

—OF THE—

G. B. CUTLER SEED CO.

Marshall, Minn.

March 1st, 1937

In presenting you this 1937 Price List, we wish to thank all our friends and customers for their past patronage.

Our old customers are well acquainted with our ways of doing business, and you should ask the old if in doubt as to our square dealings.

No Warranty.—We exercise extreme care in the filling of all orders, but we give no warranty, expressed or implied, as to the quality, description or productiveness, or any other matter of any seeds we send out, and will in no way be responsible for the crop.

Prices Subject to Change.—The prices quoted herein are based on market conditions at the time this list is issued and are subject to change without notice. We do not alter prices except in extreme cases, but if your list is an old one and you have occasions to presume that prices are either higher or lower, just write us for current list before ordering and we will supply one at once.

Orders Promptly Filled.—In case of delay you will be notified by letter explaining the cause of such delay and advised when shipment will be made. If you do not hear from an order sent us within a reasonable length of time, send us a duplicate, stating amount of remittance, and be sure to give your name and full address.

Terms of Sale—Cash must accompany orders and should be in the form of Money Order or Bank Draft, Currency or Registered Mail, or Bank Check.

This year I have something really interesting to write about, at least I found it so and I can hardly wait to tell you all about our trip out west last summer.

First, I must assure all you friends of mine that I shall be in the same old place again this year to sell you garden seed, cabbage, tomato and sweet potato plants, chick feeds and all kinds of field seed. Of course, you all know that it's the best seed to buy and I'm not foolin' either.

Now, to tell you about our trip. My wife and I left Marshall with a tankful of gas on Thursday morning, July 23rd, at 6:30 o'clock. The first day we traveled thru South Dakota and Nebraska and I can tell you Mr. and Mrs. Farmer, that you can consider yourself lucky that you live in Minnesota, because those grasshoppers left only bare corn stalks and weed stems in those states. That day we traveled 390 miles and spent the night in Grand Island. We drove up to a cabin camp and told the clerk we'd like a cabin. He asked, "Outside or inside room?" I said, "Inside, it looks like rain," but didn't.

The next morning we started out bright and early and when we reached North Platte we had to turn the clock back one hour. That was hard luck, you see we traveled an hour more than we could account for. We covered a distance of 405 miles this day and landed in Laramie, Wyoming. We could see snow-capped mountains here.

The next and final day we traveled up and down hills, around a thousand curves and across dry deserts where only sagebrush grew. We saw lots of cattle and horses roaming the range. We drove 510 miles that day and arrived at our daughter's home in Pocatello, Idaho, at 8 o'clock. Believe me! she and her husband were surely surprised to see us so soon, because we'd written them that we'd be seeing them Sunday or Monday.

Pocatello is a real western city, the second largest in Idaho, yet it only has a population of 19,000. It is situated down in a valley and is in the heart of the Blackfoot Indian Reservation. Those Indians aren't civilized at all. The squaws wear funny looking buckskin moccasins and shawls and they carry their papooses in crazy contraptions on their backs. The bucks wear cowboy hats and the old fellows have braids and wear a bright silk handkerchief around their head. I'll tell you a true story about a white man who was hauling hay on the reservation. He happened to be up near the Indian's shack at noon so the squaw asked him in to share the noon meal. They were all seated around a table which had a big kettle of soup in the center. The squaw passed it to him first and said, 'Stir 'em up good, you maybe find puppy.'

Locatello is one of the largest potato shipping centers in the world. The other main crops are sugar beets and alfalfa. Of course, all this farming is done by irrigation. These irrigation ditches run alongside of the road and each farmer has water just so many hours each week. Many times we saw farmers all decked out in hip boots and shovels going out to the fields in the morning to irrigate. They surely do get production on that soil. One man at Boise told us that oats and barley yield 100 bushels to the acre.

We spent one week-end in Boise which is one of the largest irrigated tracts in the world. We were a little too late to see the apricot or cherry-picking but we saw many peach, pear and apple orchards which contained bushels of fruit.

Another interesting sight was the Mechanafe in Boise. It is a Mechanical Cafe where there are no waiters. We sat at a long counter and long trays run the length of this counter. These trays are slowly moving and are encased in glass. You merely lower a little glass window and help yourself to the food you wish. You can have as many servings of food as you want all for 38 cents.

We visited Arrowrock Dam. It supplies the water for all the irrigation in the Boise valley. The dam dams the water to form a lake for 25 miles up the river. You know the drinking water in some parts of Idaho is so bad that the natives boil it, filter it, chlorinate it, and then drink beer.

We spent three days in Yellowstone Park and believe you me! it snowed there on August 4th! We saw Old Faithful Geyser and all the little geysers. They are quite a sight! The water is warm in some and boiling hot in others. We saw buffalo, bear, deer, porcupine and beaver, all roaming wild. We stayed at Lake Lodge and Old Faithful Lodge. Near Old Faithful Geyser, there is a beautiful new indoor swimming pool. The water is warm and flows in from Old Faithful. We listened to a lecture one evening and the question came up about the admission charged to swim in the pool. The lecturer informed the audience that it costs 35 cents to swim if you have a bathing suit or 50 cents if you have no suit. Needless to say, the audience laughed at his break.

At Old Faithful Lodge there was a regular colony of cabins. We had cabin number 505 and I was afraid we'd never find it again or get in wrong like John did. He was the head of the house and one morning he came downstairs and said to his wife, "Mary, I called Jimmy four times and he didn't answer, so I turned down the covers on his bed and gave him a good spanking." "Oh, John!" wailed Mary, "How could you?" That means I'll have to find a new cook." "How's that?" asked John.

"Jimmy stayed all night at Smith's and the cook slept in his bed last night," answered Mary.

On our way into Yellowstone Park we traveled through the Teton National Park and the Jackson Hole country famous in Wyoming. The Teton Pass was our first taste of real mountain climbing. On this mountain we could see seven roads winding below us. We continued north through the park and visited the Grand Canyon, Mammoth Hot Springs, and Roaring Mountain. The latter is a mountain filled with underground geysers which do not erupt, therefore, causing a roar. We returned from the park through the west entrance and back to Pocatello.

One incident that happened while we were in Idaho Falls is rather funny. The business men were advertising their War-Bonnet Round-Up by all wearing ten-gallon hats and bright colored handkerchiefs around their neck. One evening my daughter and I were walking down the main street when some men grabbed me, yelling, "Here's one, take him to court!" I asked them what was up and the men explained that any business man not wearing the hat or 'kerchief was taken to court and fined. I told them where I was from so they agreed to let me go. Idaho Falls is a city of 12,000 so I gathered they weren't very well acquainted with all their business men.

We remained nearly three weeks in and around Pocatello.

On our return trip we came through Casper and Douglas, Wyoming. There are acres and acres of oil wells between these towns. Some wells were pumping oil rapidly while others barely pumped at all.

In South Dakota we went through the Black Hills and found them quite different and scenic.

We enjoyed our trip very much but were glad to get back to our old state of Minnesota. In all we traveled 4,250 miles.

When all you good customers come in again this spring, I promise not to brag about my trip but I can't help but brag about Cutler's seeds.

GEO.

ALFALFA

Our seed all comes to us in sealed and branded bags, and is of the 1st grade. You have likely been hearing over the radio about the cheap seed you can buy. If you have, send for sample and see then if you want the grade of seed advertised.

Northern Grown Alfalfa

This does not need any explanation as everybody knows how good it is and every farm should have a few acres.

Do not buy Alfalfa seed that is offered cheap as it may be southern grown seed which is always cheaper than northern grown seed. The southern grown alfalfa, grown from this seed will not stand our cold winters.

This year the Minnesota law says that no Grimm's Alfalfa can be sold without a state seal so do not be misled by buying cheaper seed from some other state that does not have that law. Our seed is the blue tag or the best grade, put up in towel bags 30 and 60 pounds each and the price for that kind of Grimm's Alfalfa is per lb. -----40c

Our Cossack Alfalfa, as perhaps you all know, is a hardy plant, as much so as Grimm's, but makes a finer grade of hay.

Our price is per lb. -----40c

The Dakota 12 is nothing new, we all know about that.

Our price is per pound -----32c
Minnesota grown

Nitragin

Inoculate your alfalfa and clover with Nitragin for best results.

1/2 bushel size can -----35c
1 bushel size can -----65c

SWEET CLOVER

SCARIFIER

Having just installed a new modern Scarifier we are able to do you a better job and in less time than before. Bring in your Sweet Clover—have it scarified and cleaned. Our price is 80c per cwt.

Medium Red Clover

This seed is grown in Minnesota, cleaned in fine shape and is the best grade to be had.

Price per lb. . . . . 45c

Sweet Clover

All of this seed is scarified

White Blossom (Home grown),
1st grade -----	18c
Yellow Blossom -----	18c

More Careful

Wise-Krax: "I'm not afraid of going to the hospital," the brave little chap said to his mother. "But see here, I ain't going to let them palm off a baby on me as they did on you for I want a pup."

Grundy Co. or Dwarf Sweet Clover

It is a great deal finer, more like alfalfa. Makes better hay than common sweet clover.

Per lb. . . . . 18c

Alsike

This is by all means the best clover for a low land pasture.

Price per lb. . . . . 32c

White Dutch Clover

This is the kind to sow on your lawn. Also good in a pasture mixture.

Per lb. . . . . 40c

Dwarf Essex Rape

This seed is grown in Holland and sure is the quickest pasture for cattle, hogs and sheep when sown in spring. For fall pasture nothing gives more cheap feed than Rape sown in small grain. Price per cwt. ----$8.00

Sudan Grass

A great one year hay and pasture grass; can be cut for hay two or three times a season, a little coarse, but very good feed. Price per cwt. _$7.00

Amber Cane

One of the greatest fodders—if mixed with corn. Price per cwt. $6.00

Kaffir Corn

If cut green makes fine fodder. If allowed to ripen, is one of the best feeds for chickens. Per cwt. _-$6.00

Grahoma

A real feed. Per cwt. -----$8.00

Hagari Cane

Similar to Cane. Per cwt. ----$6.00

Wheat Milo

Grows about four feet high with lots of leaves. Can be cut with a binder and gives a lot of good, fine fodder. Per cwt. -----$6.00
